Reflections
and Impressions
For Seniors 1972

Remember that grand, old brick building that seemed so ominous and foreboding? Remember when you, as the youngest class in the high school stood in front of it, and when you had the urge to go exploring afraid of what you might find? Soon that eerie and rather spooky old high school became your friend as you hurried and scurried about trying to find your classes, getting that confounded locker open and gossiping to your friends. Try to reflect back to the days when you were that bothersome seventh grader to your upper classmen.

The graduating class of 1972 is the last class to have attended high school in the old building. On that day in May 1972, all of the ties will have been cut not only from high school but with that sad forgotten building across the road.

... of Yesterday's Look

Bobby socks and wool midis highlighted the fashion scene when the seniors began at Monrovia High.

Doing your own thing is the expression of individualistic people.

... of Today

The current dress of the average student at Monrovia became evident on Hebo Day.

... of Tomorrow

Evelyn Howard—"The Hot Pant Kid"—expresses her distaste against entangling dresses.

... of a Bulldog's Activities

The average Bulldog was engaged in a plethora of activities during the year ranging from slave sales to ballgames. Although going to classes was required, many students found time to relax and rap with friends during the day. Lunch highlighted many a Bulldog's day as the hall became a pulsating crush of humans with one objective in mind—to get something to eat immediately!

Vicki Kenworthy seems to be bored with school as she blindly walks down the hall.

Hungry students line up to buy healthy potato chips and candy for lunch.

... of Clubs, Honors and Friends

Monrovia thrived with student clubs, honors and friends during 1971-72. As the year flew by we saw friends gathering at noon to discuss the latest gossip as they rushed to the candy machine. Frequently the junior class met to finalize the plans for the prom.

The year wasn't without student honors. In the spring of 1971 fifteen students were inducted into National Honor Society, the highest honor conferred on students by a high school. The Freshman football team finished first in the West Central Conference. The senior class presented a surprise award to the coaches and team for their outstanding athletic ability and for bringing a conference championship to Monrovia.

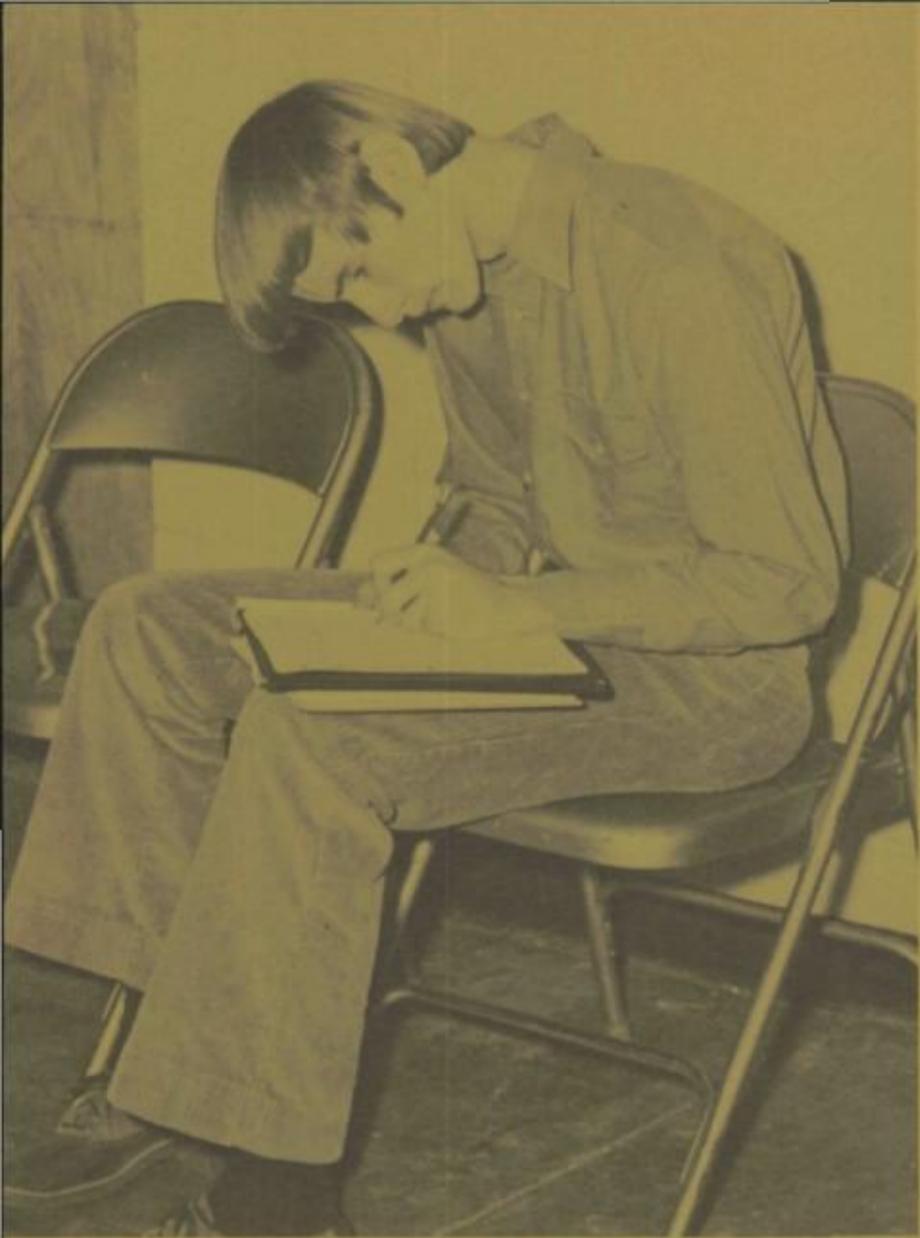

Senior class members Jeff Leath, Lee Gormon, and Ed Gamble present a plaque to football coaches Demes and McFall in recognition of their conference win.

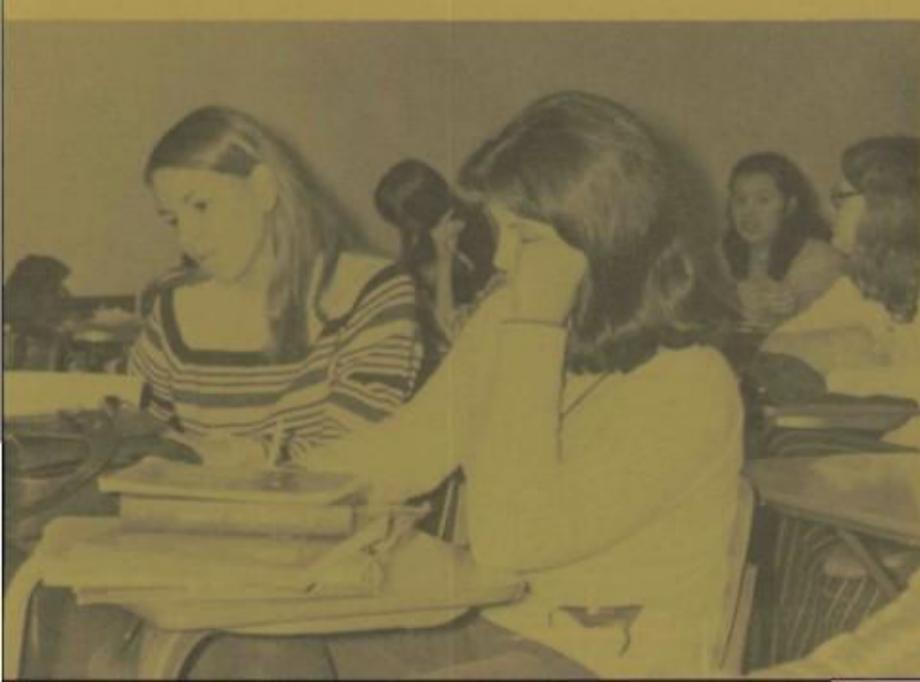

The new members that were tapped in March of 1971 were: M. Pgymian, G. Sisk, M. Wolven, B. Aldridge, M. Cooper, D. Wittke, M. Smith, J. Pryor, M. Smith, S. Shields, D. Becker, D. Cross, T. Hamm, C. Mills, J. Watson.

and Aggravation

This seems to be the typical study hall.

This study hall is the same as all the others—dull!

Homework! The year brimmed with term papers, book reports, exams, and tests. There was no word which was detested more. The astronomical mountains of paper required the most intense concentration which produced the highest form of aggravation and sometimes assault.

Farming is still America's basic industry and it has a big following here in Monrovia. Future Farmers was the organization for young men who are interested in farming as a vocation. Under the leadership of Mr. Emmett Wagner, Monrovia's branch has won numerous awards and prizes. The entire school was proud of their Vo-Ag department.

If you are interested in the enigmas of this planet on which lives the superior animal of homo sapiens, then the Science club was for you. Mr. Robert Miller sponsored this inquisitive group of junior scientists for 1971-72.

Student Council is a group of students who represent the student body at administrative meetings. They present the student's point of view on certain issues. This year some things were changed such as the dress code.

of Life's Unknown Destiny

Nine hundred and seventy-two climaxed and completed twelve long years of education here at Monrovia for the seniors. The twelve years have been marked by joy, sadness, hard work, the trials of growing up and the struggle to find themselves. As the years drew swiftly to a close, memories of people long forgotten, places remembered only in some far corner of the mind—of parties, class projects, ball games and picnics that seem to have happened yesterday crowd the thoughts of the graduating class. No longer would their voices ring out over everyone else's during a ballgame; no longer would their names on signs adorn the halls as they become part of Monrovia's past.

As the final year drew to a close the bonds of unity between the seniors strengthened as each savored this, the final close association which lasted from adolescence to adulthood.

When the Class of 1972 met for the last time, they took with them twelve years of memories more precious than gold and the ability to face whatever the future held for them.

Eighth Graders Challenge Requirements

Eighth graders have become veterans of high school life. They slowly walked down the halls confident that they knew how to open their lockers and get to class on time. These members of MHS would stare at the "horrid seventh graders" frantically trying to get their lockers open just before they landed at the bottom of the stairwell for staring.

Seventh Grade Enters High School Activities

The seventh graders entered high school in the fall of 1971. Often times you saw these, sometimes paining members of high school, slipping and sliding down the halls as they tried to get to class or find the relocatables. The office was flooded the first few weeks of school by bleary-eyed kids who couldn't get their locker open. But soon the halls were the same as usual as the new high school members accepted being knocked down by seniors who didn't see them.

Seventh Grade class officers for 1971-72 are sitting: Tony Stewart and Kevin Watson. Standing: Brad Speck and Roy Watson.

THE BULLDOG

Editor-in-chief of this year's newspaper was Dianne Kenworthy, assistant, Steph Lineback; other staff members included Katrina Keith, Chirp Eckleberry, Diane Thompson, and beginning second semester, Virginia Brown, Randy Davenport, and Wayne Saucerman.

The paper was renamed, to distinguish it from the yearbook; the new nameplate was designed by Brent Burkett.

Monrovia gradually changes from a tiny farm town to a bustling community.

A Final View— Monrovia As Seniors Depart . . .

Reminances of old Monrovia are still protrayed by the standing of the old school.

Look familiar, gang?

Typical day of Monrovia High School shows neatness in the parking lot.

To Join the Ever-changing
Society

Every morning, this sight greets you as you enter the building.

Winged-Avenger cast is Deenie Cross, Dan Williams, Ann Fisher, Kim Bright, Toni Turley, and Justin Chenoweth.

The Sexy Sheriff subdues the Winged-Avenger.

The Santa cast is Diane Baxter, Debbie Herider, Jo Brady, Jim Watson, Evelyn Howard, Gilbert Varble, Lee Gormon, and Rick Hovis.

Sir Gay-Wayne cast is Marta Aldridge, Wanda Sowers, Deenie Cross, Donna Ooley, Cindy Manion, Teresa Campbell, and Ed Gamble.

Jo Brady and Debbie Herider relax between shows.

Sexy Sheriff (Ann Fisher) sits on the lap of our announcer Jeff Leath.

Deenie Cross and Jim Watson share a bit of wisdom before the Red-Pop Review.

Jim Watson and Deenie Cross present the Ken Keltner special during the quickies.

Students, Visitors Applaud Original Acts

"Are you by chance a vicious thug?"

Announced as the most widely attended play, the school had given, the Seniors presented the student-written original, Once Upon A Pun in three separate short plays.

Written by Ed Gamble, senior, and Rowell Gorman, former student and Indiana University junior, the three plays were applicable to today's TV world and entertaining for all ages, utilizing irony and play on words, basically.

Narrated by Jeff Leath, directed by Rowell Gorman and sponsored by Mrs. Sheila Turner, the performance was received enthusiastically especially before the student body. Students were enthralled by the "Winged Avenger", Kim Bright, senior, who was a representation of the Superman, Batman era. As the great "Winged Avenger" of the third play swooped across the stage by rope, knocking some props all over, to save some damsel in distress, his foot caught and he also swung back across the stage leaving nothing and no body intact, truly "tearing up" the stage crew.

The Winged-Avenger and Lotta Lungpower foil Filberts feindish plan.

The three plays were, "Sir Gay Wayne", "The Winged Avenger", and "Finchley Wins by a Nose".

Pride Is Promoted

Sam Sisk, Gary Warmoth, and Dean Hadley hold their victory cake after WCC win.

David Toole becomes the "Illustrated Man" after WCC Championship.

The ball boys and coaches stand at attention during National Anthem.

In Country And Sports

'Le Quartier' Furthers Students Language Opportunities

Katrina Keith studies the art of the French language.

Charles Shepherd and Diane Thompson study the variety of foreign language books in the lab

Mrs. Mary Jo Patrick cuts her birthday cake which was bought for her by the assistants.

Office Assistants Throw Surprise Party For Mary Jo

Mrs. LaRoche bites into her piece of cake.

"Did Mark make a boo-boo?"

"Hit him, Nathan, hit him!"

"Jack came back."

"Can the pig farmer fly?"

"Mug shot, 1974"

"Brian, the food isn't that bad."

"Primping won't help much gang."

The Faces of Monrovia At Inopportune Times

"Hi, y'all, I'm Mary Jo from Terre Haute."

"Buy Mogen David, 1969"

"Hey, Honey."

"Try it, you'll like it!"

"Maybe the cafeteria food is that bad."

"I tried it, and I thought I was going to die."

"I can't believe it's a girdle."

"It's really me, cross my heart."

Acknowledgement

The staff would like to take this opportunity to acknowledge and extend thanks to all the people who took time to work on the 1972 BULLDOG. The book was revised this year with colored end sheets and division pages. We added more pictures and pages for your added enjoyment in the form of a closing section.

A very special thanks goes to our sponsor, Mrs. Ruth Ann Maze, for her knowledge and experience came in useful in those critical hours, and to the businessmen who placed an advertisement in the BULLDOG.

The student body, faculty and administration deserve thanks who supplied the backing and support which is needed to give Monrovia an accurate reflection and impression of 1972.

Sincerely yours,
Gilbert Varble
